East Asian leaders to promote biofuel

Urge Nokor to abandon nuclear test program

CEBU—ASIAN AND PACIFIC leaders, representing half of the world's population, yesterday signed an agreement to help reduce their dependence on conventional sources of energy and promote the use of biofuel.

They also urged North Korea to abandon its nuclear ambitions.

The Cebu Declaration on East Asian Energy Security was signed by leaders from Southeast Asia, Australia, New Zealand, India, Japan, China and South Korea after a three-hour summit here.

The agreement lists a set of goals for "stable, adequate and affordable" energy supplies, material: in sustaining economic growth and competitiveness.

Unlike the European Union, however, which last week unveiled ambitious energy proposals to cut greenhouse gas emissions by at least 30 percent, the Asian leaders, who met some of the most polluted nations on earth, offered no concrete targets.

At the summit, Japanese Prime Minister Shinzo Abe announced a $2 billion aid package to help Asian nations develop energy-saving technology and ease the region's dependence on oil.

"The purpose of eliminating poor sources of energy in East Asian countries, we will offer $2 billion of aid," she said at the summit, according to a Japanese official.

Japan is a front runner in energy-efficient technologies as the resource-poor nation, which relies nearly on all imported fuels from the Middle East, has been striving to reduce its consumption since the CEBU CITY—THE SPOUSES OF EAST Asian leaders on Sunday savored Cebu's hospitality and its rich history as the sea shore for the first time after more than a week of treaty talks.

RP, China to sign 19 farm deals worth P240B

THE PHILIPPINES AND CHINA ARE SET to sign 19 farm agreements involving investments worth P240.1 billion ($4.6 billion) over the next five to seven years.

Agriculture Secretary Arsenio Lapina yesterday said the deals, which were expected to be signed during the state visit of Chinese Premier Wen Jiabao on Monday and Tuesday, included the development of 1.2 million hectares for rice, corn, sugarcane and other crops in the Philippines.

In a press statement, Lapina said the biggest deal would be a memorandum of agreement allowing Fujian Group Ltd. to invest P187.67 billion ($4.6 billion) on one million hectares of land in the Philippines for higher-yielding corn, rice and sugarcane.

Up for signing with the Beidahuang Group, the corporate state farm of the Longjiang province, are two agreements involving a total P45.4 billion ($100 million) in investments.

One of the agreements with the Beidahuang Group will be for the development of 200,000 hectares for rice, corn and other crops in northern Luzon.

The other agreement calls for the setting up of a P5.4-billion ($120 million) agro-industrial project with all-weather greenhouses for the production and export of flowers and off-season vegetables and fruits in Japan, Hong Kong and Taiwan.

Top said five related projects will also be signed, including the establishing the Nanjing-Singapore Industry Group.

Big business praises trade thrusts, but ...

By Gil C. Cabacungan Jr.

CEBU—PHILIPPINE BIG BUSINESS is elated by the prospects of Asian joining a trading bloc with other economic powerhouses in the region but is worried that high power costs would prevent the country from taking advantage of a broader consumer base.

In an interview with the Inquirer, captain John Gokongwei said the Philippines could still be a manufacturing hub in a borderless region if power costs were lowered to at least be at par with other Asian countries.

"If we keep our power rates low and everything else, I think we can compete in manufacturing goods. Power rates are pretty high. It should at least be competitive with Thailand," said Gokongwei.

Gokongwei's business interests span air transportation, banking, food manufacturing, health, pharmaceuticals, power generation, publishing, real estate, telecommunications and tourism.

In a speech two years ago, Gokongwei noted that his factories in Thailand bought power at P3.5 per kilowatt-hour compared to P7.00 in the Philippines. To beat the high power costs, he said he

Bring Asean to grass roots, GMA urges summit delegates

By Volt Coenraads

CEBU—REDDING BARNWELL TO THE delegates to the Association of Southeast Asian Nations and East Asian summit, President Macapagal-Arroyo yesterday urged his fellow leaders to usher in "grass-root" for the ordinary people in the region.

Speaking at a news conference at the close of the meetings, Mr. Arroyo said the participating leaders were able "to bring Asian people grass-root" relationship by the 18-nation bloc closer to political and economic integration with historic records on migrant workers, trade and energy cooperation harnessed out in the past work.

Leviste charged with homicide

By Terro F. Quinsamola

FORNARD, BANGALAG, AND ANTONIO "Tony" Leviste was charged with homicide yesterday for the death of his brother-in-law Rafael during the drug war.

According to the bureau officers, they looked evidence for Leviste, Manila police officials filed the charges before the Manila City Prosecutor's Office as they concluded that Leviste, youngest husband of former first lady Leticia Laparida, "should be held liable" for homicide based on evidence police had gathered from the crime scene and from witnesses.

"We believe the crime was inside the room of the governor's brother-in-law, a close friend and maybe they had an argument," they say. Leviste was shot at the crime scene, and Leviste said he did not know who shot him. He said he was shot in the left side, "discrepancies" said evidence after filing the complaint.

"We were ready to live. We believe this based on the forensic examination, he was injured. We believe he was shot in the left side, the doctor's report says it is a gunshot wound, the governor's brother-in-law said he was shot in the left side," he said.

The doctor's diagnosis, 41-year-old Dr. Sanchez, said no physical explanation to the criminal case, so the case was being filed. Sanchez was on the Manila Bureau of Investigation to ask them to look into the shooting.

Second, another city prosecutor, Dr. Sanchez, said, the alleged brother-in-law, Antonio, was shot in the left side, the doctor's report says it is a gunshot wound, the governor's brother-in-law said he was shot in the left side, "discrepancies" said evidence after filing the complaint.

Leviste will be charged to court, modified to homicide.

Leviste was found dead between 12 noon and 1 p.m. on Friday inside Leviste's office on the sixth floor of the LRT station in Lungsod Taguig, a busy commercial hub in the financial center. Police said the 48-year-old longtime aide of Governor Juan Ponce Enrile was found dead on the floor of his office.

Asean plan to tighten discipline worries Burma

COBALT-BURMA (REUTERS) It is unclear what efforts to South-East Asia might lead to create new rules that would allow for disciplinary action against member states, but members of the Association of South-East Asian Nations agreed at their annual summit last week that they would set a high level of discipline that a joint review could be considered by late 2002.

Government-appointed advisers say members that South-East Asian principles could have their rights and privileges suspended or even be expelled in extreme cases.

Burma has been internationally criticized because of its failure to democratize and to release political prisoners, and its possible intention to promote in the states outside Burma, which currently are under military rule, by removing them, adapting its own regulations.

"From what they [Burma] mentioned at the various discussions, I can say that it is an issue of concern to them," Indonesian Foreign Minister Hassan Wirajuda told The Associated Press on the sidelines of a breakfast meeting of 15 Asian leaders, including Burma's Prime Minister U Nu, in Manila.

Nene, Loi raise question of delicadeza in Davide oath-taking

By T. Burgos

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL CHAIRMAN AL PRODIANO Representative to the Third District in Cebu on Tuesday asked if his constituents derive heavy emotions yesterday from allies of former President Joseph Estrada in the Senate.

The former Chief Justice, who has yet to get the nod of the Commission on Appointments (COA), was sworn into the post by President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo on the sidelines of the 20th-Avenue Sessions in Cebu.

Senate Minority Leader Aquilino Piononiro Jr. said the oath-taking showed the Arroyo administration's lack of delicadeza.

Sen. Lito "Loi" Tordesillas, wife of the ousted president, said that ending an oath-taking underlines in the COA has placed the credit of a "delicadeza" on the COA.

"It's the first time to my knowledge that a legislative assembly polychromatic your oath-taking (CA) deliberations, Davide's competence is not in issue. The rule of law and emotions are not in doubt. Don't we have delicadeza?" Piononiro said.

Cavite approved before the COA the first time in late December and came under intense grilling from Sen. Jinggoy Trinidad, mainly over his role in convincing Macapagal to let the president in January 2005, following the latter's ouster.

The session moved to further question Piononiro after Congress members pressed their words.

Specifically, wife of the former President, said that while there was nothing wrong with the oath-taking in general, the demand that the COA members fail to be confirmed first before they could prove their credentials to the COA.

He, however, said Davide should be careful to avoid suffering the fate of US permanent ambassador to the UN, John Bolton, who declined not to pass through with his nomination after the notorious controversy in the two countries in Iraq.

Davide, 71, is an ex-pressman administrator. Lito said, who has been in the post since May 2005.

Row shakes up Everest team; leader resigns

By Jo Zamar

THE FIRST PHILIPPINE MT Everest Expedition (PFME), a team that made history by putting the first Filipino at the top of Mt. Everest, has hit ground as disagreements pull it apart.

Last year's expedition leader, Mt. Everest, resigned.

Valdez said he quit the team because some of his teammates didn't like the idea of having only the three women climbers go to the summit of Mt. Everest.

He said all he wanted was to be the first woman to conquer the peak of Mt. Everest, which is 29,029 feet high.

Personal peak

"It's simply better to climb it for me personally, but I have no problem if any of my teammates want to go," he said. "I'm not going to let anyone else go."

According to Valdez, eight other climbers want to join the three women in the planned "solo climb" in April.

But Bilib Sabana, president of PFME and one of its organizers, said he was not prepared with all of the team members wanting to reach the summit of Mt. Everest.

3 years of their lives

"Three people have put in three years of their lives into this effort. They've put their lives on hold. Some of them people have stopped working. Of course they want to climb," said Sabana.

"When we put up the team we made decisions three years ago. Now, we're saying, 'This isn't going to tell them they can't do it.'"

Valdez was replaced by Reggie Lito, who said the PFME respected its leaders' decisions.

"He resigned for personal reasons, but he will continue to guide us. He is like a father to us," Sabana said.

As the new expedition leader, Lito said the team would climb Mt. Everest in April, with one team climbing from the south side and another climbing the more popular north side.

Sabana confirmed the "solo climb" within the expedition. "They were definitely not alone in this," he said.

According to Sabana, Lito's resignation was accepted by the group on Dec. 15.

Money matters

But money is the issue, who declined to be identified in print, the first time for the climbing team. "We were not going to be sponsored by any team members or other money that was generated by the team," he said.

The money and Lito's resignation were not a problem for the team, who decided to go.

He was among the team members who said he was not a member of the team.

On May 17, 2009, PFME climbed Mt. Everest because the first Filipino to reach the summit of Mt. Everest. On May 18, Bilib Sabana, Lito and Reggie Lito also reached the summit on their own.

April climb

The next expedition is the world's first all-women expedition to the summit of Mt. Everest. The team is led by Sabana, who is also a member of the team. The team is also a member of the team.

"My main concern is to be the first woman to reach the summit of Mt. Everest," he said.

Valdez said maintaining a big group was not only his impression. "What we want, it's not going to be a team, it's not going to be a team," he said.

However, the first Filipino to reach the peak of Mt. Everest, said he agreed with Sabana. "Mt. Everest is always there. It will not go away," he said.

New officials take over Pasay City streets

By Jocelyn R. Ly

SCENE Many Pasay City residents, who work under the "Protestant" banner, are taking to the streets in protest as the city's third election on a permanent basis, three days after the Office of the Commission on Elections ordered the dismissal of the provincial governor and the city mayor.

Rodolfo Arce, Department of Justice and Local Government director for the National Capital Region, also announced the results of the election to bring Mayor Arce to the Commission on Elections. Arce, who was elected in 1998, was the first Pasay City mayor to be elected in a permanent basis.

Arce, who was elected in 1998, was the first Pasay City mayor to be elected in a permanent basis. He was elected in 1998, was the first Pasay City mayor to be elected in a permanent basis.

He added that since the dismissed order was not yet final, the suspended mayor and the other officials should be allowed to continue their posts.

The dismissed order is not yet final and necessary as they don't have the right to sue the Commission on Elections to order change of the mandate given to them by the people of Pasay City or else, there will be disruption of their duties," Arce told reporters.

The other suspended officials—Commissioner Rodolfo Arce, Mayor Arce, and Councilor Arce, who were elected in 1998, were the first Pasay City mayor to be elected in a permanent basis.

Saddam half-brother, aide hanged

Crimes against humanity

IRAQI-SADDAM HUSSEIN's half-brother Hussein al-Tikriti and Saddam's chief judge Awad al-Bandari were hanged on Monday for crimes against humanity, Iraqi state television said, quoting a source close to the government.

The following are brief profiles of the two men, who were sentenced to the hanging of 140 miles from Tikrit in the 1990s.

• Hussein al-Bandari of Tikrit: al-Bandari's half-brother, 44 years old, joined Saddam's regime in 1979 and worked as an intelligence officer.

He was Iraq's ambassador to the United Nations in Geneva from 1990 to 1993, where he is remembered as an allegedly unyielding negotiator. He later became a member of the UN Security Council in 1995.

He was captured by US special forces in Baghdad in April 2003. He was the first of three in a US dock of playing cards representing the main Saddamist leadership.

As intelligence chief, he was accused of inflicting mass murder and torture, and of personally taking part in human rights abuses, including the destruction of Kurdish villages.

BAGHDAD—SADDAM HUSSEIN'S HALF-brother and the former head of Iraq's Revolutionary Court were hanged Monday two weeks after the deposed Iraqi dictator's bungled execution drew worldwide condemnation.

An Iraqi government official said there had been "no mistakes" during the early morning execution, but that the head of Saddam's half-brother, Hussein al-Tikriti, had been ripped from his body.

Hussein al-Tikriti and Awad al-Bandari, chief judge of Saddam's Revolutionary Court, died before dawn, Iraqi government spokesmen said. al-Tikriti was 44 years old.

al-Bandari said that Hussein had been disappointed during his hanging, while Hussein al-Tikriti, an adviser to Prime Minister Ibrahim al-Jaafari, said the "hanging" was "not too bad."

"There was no incident that happened, that is the separation between the body of Saddam and the head. This happens because it did happen and there was no act of God and it was a normal process, it was happened before," said al-Bandari.

The two confirmed men had been found guilty of crimes against humanity for the killing of 140 miles from the village of Dujail in the 1990s.

They were sentenced to death on Dec. 31 by a special court set up with Saddam, who was executed on Dec. 30, was mostly condemned for the way it was handled by the Iraqi authorities.

al-Bandari said he was in contact with Saddam, who was executed on Dec. 30, was mostly condemned for the way it was handled by the Iraqi authorities.

US military apologizes for S. Korea rape

SEOUL—US MILITARY

authorities in South Korea have apologized over the alleged rape of a 17-year-old local woman by a US soldier, saying the case was "an affront" to all servicemen, of South Korea.

The apology came hours after South Korean police arrested a 20-year-old US soldier for allegedly raping and beating the woman in his room in Seoul.

Major General John Morgan, the acting US-Korea army commander, said in a statement posted on the US military website on Sunday that the case raised the reputation of US soldiers.

"I deeply regret and personally apologize for this terrible incident that has resulted in great injury to a Korean woman," Morgan said.

"This vicious act was an affront to all soldiers."

The accused soldier initially refused to cooperate with police during the arrest of 15 US soldiers, according to South Korea's Yonhap news agency.

Morgan said the US military was "cooperating fully with Korean authorities" over the case and a joint investigation was underway.

Police managed to obtain some permission to detain the soldier in South Korea until the US military custody. The victim is recovering in a nearby hospital.

Some 20,000 US troops are stationed here to support the South Korean effort to fight against attacks from North Korea. AFP

SBP sets basketball 'unity congress' on Feb. 5

MAKING THE FIRST BROTHERHOOD CONGRESS the basketball federation of the Philippines (SBP) will hold a unity congress on Feb. 5 at the Grand Hyatt Hotel in Manila.

Congress organizers said the SBP will need out attention to "all bona-fide members of the basketball federation of the Philippines and Filipino basketball."

Adding SBP members, majority Filipino basketball players and the congress will have the support of the three main power groups: SBP and PBA, as well as current and former national basketball players.

The three-man panel led by basketball spokesman Manny T. Angilinas, owner of the PBA, will be the first to be elected.

out to all members of the basketball community to speed up the process of the SBP's formation after a two-year absence.

The congress will also discuss why the SBP should be the national basketball league, known as the PBA.

A new council of presidents after the Philippine Olympic Committee expelled the last from the national basketball federation.

SBP officials were also accused of bringing the national team into the SBP. SBP officials denied the accusations.

SBP officials are also expected to be the SBP's first congress on Feb. 5. Angilinas and former PBA president Sen. Jing G. Arana, who returned to support for the SBP, will be the first to be elected.

'World Cup' boxing moved

THE 'WORLD CUP' OF BOXING featuring fights involving Filipino boxers and Myanmar would change to Cuba for three months from March to October, middle of the year to give organizers time to negotiate with the managers of the boxers.

In a meeting with the Cuban media yesterday, top Filipino promoter Ramon Colla said that they have not reached agreement with the managers of PBA superstars Manny Pacquiao and Kiki Daza to fight in the Philippines.

"We have decided, together with the Cuban promoters, to postpone the World Cup boxing event," Colla said. "Sometime, we will make sure that the World Cup will still take place in the Philippines."

Both Colla and Daza and Pacquiao are said to have shown an interest in moving to the Philippines to fight in the Philippines.

Pacquiao is said to have been asked to fight in the Philippines. "If the boxer is right," the manager of Colla said. He is expected to say he would go to the Philippines. Colla is expected to say he would go to the Philippines.

Our City of Affections and Disaffections is made up of stories. Your stories. Tell us all about it.

- Did a signpost make your day?
- Garbage dumped on your street make your day?
- Street lighting better on the street where you live?
- Are you up in arms against the definition of an ancestral house?
- Awed by a little-known baroque project with a big positive impact in your community?
- Got stuck in potholes?
- Fed up with missing and finding neighbors?
- Is there an everyday rule model in your neighborhood?
- Delighted with the fruits on your way to work?

Tell, text or email it. With photos, if you will. Share the good news where you are and the bad. Being involved is the only way to make Metro Manila a safer, more, healthier and a more vibrant place to live in.

SUPER LADY AND SUPER-HEROINE Jessica Jane Yap, who is involved in different fundraisers for several charitable institutions, was the Supper Queen for a Day during her 34th birthday bash at the Tropicana Hotel in the Philippines.

It was also a fundraiser for Michael Angelo's, a rescue center for the San Francisco Bay Area.

The day like this, which was "a cause" not just, but lots of good friends for her, including her friends and family, who were also invited by her to the event.

But the grand surprise of the evening was that Jessica Yap, who is also a model, was invited to the event by her friends and family, who were also invited by her to the event.

Well, perhaps, like the other women, Jessica Yap, who is also a model, was invited to the event by her friends and family, who were also invited by her to the event.

INSIDE OUT

Cory Quirino

The fountain of youth and more

Part 1

IT IS SAID, THAT 2,000 YEARS AGO, THE emperor of China, Qin Shi Huang, who built the Great Wall, was in pursuit of a fountain to discover the elixir of youth.

He sent a 1,000-strong army of soldiers to look for it in the vast eastern lands of the world.

Little did the emperor know that the elixir that existed has been already found. All he had to do was to study his own body to find it.

In another part of the globe, Quirino, who was a successful doctor practicing for years, developed a regimen to ensure smoother skin and better hair. Fresh goods with less toxic ingredients.

Imagine Quirino's regimen today, he would be a very young man. He was famous for his long hair and the accidentally discovered hair in his hair.

While there are numerous ways to improve the body's ability to delay aging, we will focus on just a few.

As with any regimen that is effective, the process should have both internal and external effects.

Internal

Ageing is a result of metabolic abnormalities, where the endocrine system produces more than enough growth hormone, which is the hormone that causes the body to produce more growth hormone.

Hormone deficiency is also due to a major way to change the body, suggesting that the body is not producing enough growth hormone.

Hormones

The key hormone of the endocrine system is the growth hormone (GH), which is the hormone that causes the body to produce more growth hormone.

It is believed that GH is the hormone that causes the body to produce more growth hormone.

Setting the record straight

Art

THIS IS THE CONTINUATION OF MY point-by-point reply to Stephen James Rand's reaction (see P.16, Dec. 12, 2010) to my column of Dec. 24, 2010.

4. Rand: "I have never said that Dr. Dantes was a fake psychic. Collier never filed any harassment suit against me. In the same vein as the old Mr. De la Cruz and had to pay $110,000 in damages."

By not even being called a fake psychic, but for seriously harassing him for years, noting what Collier was doing was plain insanity that he could be played anyone.

Let the paper Dr. Dantes again from the above mentioned book

"Perceptology": "The research on Collier's alleged PK abilities has earned serious criticism, primarily from James Rand and others such as counting and sleight of hand 'experts'. In fact, Rand has made something of a career as Collier's adversary, having even from earlier celebrity or national prominence through books and television appearances in which he claims to expose Collier's tricks. Rand and others often claim that all scientists who observed Collier's demonstrations were simply duped by convincing tricks."

After the lawsuit Collier filed against Rand, my source was no less Collier himself who personally told me that story in Dantes' testimony in 1994 during an international conference I attended where he was one of the speakers.

Collier Collier was helped in a manner what he said, that between Collier and Rand, whom should we believe?

5. I said in my article that "Rand heads a noisy group called the Committee for the Scientific Investigation of Claims of the Paranormal (CSICOP) and publishes the Skeptical Inquirer; the main purpose of which is to show that those who believe in such things are nuts."

Rand's "Skeptic" tip, I have not been contacted with CSICOP for more than a decade."

Why, he can't deny that it is the late '70s and throughout the '80s, he was the most visible and vocal spokesman of CSICOP—nothing else, appearing on television shows and many public forums representing CSICOP and denouncing believers in psychic phenomena "hoaxbusters."

In 2001 Dr. Dantes again! "Probably one of CSICOP's best known advocates is the magician James Rand. Born in Canada as Randolph James Dunge, Rand advised me to delete his name through his effort to delete his name from CSICOP."

Rand participated in the screening of a book about the writings of Michel Cresswell's conclusion that there was a significant correlation between the status of athletes and the position of their hands in the boxers. Rand's group denounced Cresswell's finding only to see their words turn to smoke. They were so far as to manipulate science data to confirm in their preoccupied manner that something was psychokinetic.

Paul Maguire said in his September 2003 issue, "They call themselves the Committee for the Scientific Investigation of Claims of the Paranormal. In fact, they are a group of would-be debunkers who laughed their noses at recognition, belittled the results, accused us of fraud and gave the book to a colleague (Dante Rand) who threatened to sell the book."

So much for the Amazing Rand and his Amazing List!

De-stress during coffee breaks

WORKING PEOPLE COFFEE BREAKS ARE some tips to help you stay focused and reduce stress and promote productivity.

Lead up to a stress-free coffee break by taking a few minutes to relax and reduce stress levels.

This frequent break and a 15-minute rest of 1.2 minutes every hour if you find yourself struggling to focus then rest time, take a 15-minute break.

The following exercises from the University of Michigan Health System (www.med.umich.edu) can help you fight fatigue and improve your productivity. They also help you stay focused during your coffee break. Do these exercises every 15-20 minutes.

1. When sitting, clasp the back of your head with both arms then slowly stretch back and look up to the ceiling.

2. Stand upright with your feet shoulder-width apart. Slowly lean back until you feel a stretch in the back of your shoulders. Hold for 15 seconds.

3. Standing with your arms by your sides, separate your shoulder blades together and hold for 15 seconds.

4. Stand facing a mirror with both arms on the wall slightly above your head. Slowly lean forward until you feel a stretch in the back of your shoulders. Hold for 15 seconds.

I had
I named her character Madame Lu! But I mean, she opens for me. I realized that she was human after all. Her hands were shaking and she admitted, "I'm nervous."
I was so nervous to see her. I mean, she was not only a hooker, but she was a heroine.
I was so nervous to see her. I mean, she was not only a hooker, but she was a heroine.

What's the best review you've received so far?
It's been a big success. I think she's truly believed that I'm not a hooker. I think she's truly believed that I'm not a hooker. I think she's truly believed that I'm not a hooker.

Do you have plans of performing in the Philippines?
I'm still writing and hoping. I've performed in some countries, but not in the Philippines.
I've been to the Philippines, but not in the Philippines.
I've been to the Philippines, but not in the Philippines.
